

GREEN HOPE COACHING WITH

Kathy Burrus

EMPOWERING WOMEN TO MAKE THEIR POWERFUL DIFFERENCE

Kathy Burrus is a lover of stories, and more especially, of the people who live out those stories. She has experienced firsthand as a pastor's wife and mom of three daughters how life can sometimes get very messy.

Learning to embrace her own story and respond with hope in the middle of some very hard places, she found a way to move forward with life. She became a certified life and relationship coach in order to help other women find that same kind of hope, empowering them to make their powerful difference in the world.

Join in as Kathy shares a message of hope and healing. She invites us to listen to what our stories are telling us about who we are and where we are going. Authentically transparent about her own struggles, Kathy encourages us to interact with our own life story and intentionally embrace loss and engage life, becoming empowered to love.

Walk with Kathy, and embrace the refreshing beauty of your own journey. Be renewed by the powerful difference you can make in your world!

Lovely Traces of Hope

Kathy Burrus is a woman of many questions. Questions she asks from her heart, seeking a way to help others connect with their inner purpose. Her welcoming approach to life is centered around her faith in God and focuses on touching as many lives as she can within her reach. Simply put, Kathy is a servant to positively building the emotional well-being of others.
